CAPTRUST Bethlehem Office Moving to City Center Allentown's Tower 6

On May 29, CAPTRUST will move from its office location in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, to City Center Allentown's newly opened Tower 6 office building. The state-of-the-art 12-story tower is located in the heart of Allentown's urban center.

May 7, 2018 (Raleigh, NC) – On May 29, CAPTRUST's Strategic Advisor Group will move from its present office location in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, to City Center Allentown's newly opened Tower 6 office building. The state-of-the-art 12-story tower is located at the corner of 6th and Hamilton streets, in the heart of Allentown's growing urban center and will carry CAPTRUST signage. The firm will occupy the building's entire 9th floor.

"We are excited to be part of the revitalization of downtown Allentown and to have a new home in this fabulous location and office space," said CAPTRUST Principal Mike Molewski, who attended the building's ribbon cutting on May 3. "This move shows our commitment to the Lehigh Valley area and will provide much needed office space for our growing business."

Molewski and partners Chris Butz, Jim Edwards, and Wes Schantz joined CAPTRUST in 2015 when they merged MFP Strategies with the Raleigh, North Carolina-based investment advisory firm. Molewski and Butz lead a group focused on financial advisory needs of high-net-worth individuals and families, with a focus on business-owning families. Edwards and Schantz were recently named to Barron's 2018 Top 50 Institutional Consultants list for their work on the retirement plans of area corporations and higher education institutions.
