

CAPTRUST's Meyer Honored as Outstanding C-Suite Level Executive

CAPTRUST Chief Technology Officer Jon S. Meyer was recognized by the Triangle Business Journal in its 2018 class of C-Suite Awards winners.

These awards honor outstanding C-level executives for their contributions to the Research Triangle community. This year's class includes individuals from a variety of industries, including technology, health care, finance, and engineering. They also hold titles such as chief operating officer, chief financial officer, and chief marketing officer.

"This year's class of C-suite winners is impressive," says Jason Christie, publisher of Triangle Business Journal. "They represent the best of the best in corporate leadership in The Triangle. We're proud of what they've accomplished, and they have set the bar for others to follow."

On August 24, the 17 winners will be recognized at an awards luncheon at The Umstead Hotel and Spa in Cary, North Carolina, and profiled in a special section of the Triangle Business Journal that will be published in its subscriber edition.

"I am incredibly honored and humbled. The opportunity to work at CAPTRUST inspires me and the team every day; it is truly a reflection of the hard work of so many," Meyer stated.

Meyer joined CAPTRUST as chief technology officer responsible for leading the firm's information technology team. His role is to ensure effective and secure technology operations, to manage the development and support of proprietary applications, and to implement strategies that position the firm for sustained growth. Prior to joining CAPTRUST, Jon served as a managing consultant at Greenway Solutions and has worked in the industry since 1990. He is a graduate of Duke University, and former president of the Society for Information Management.
