

2026 Retirement Plan Contribution Limits

The IRS today announced the updated retirement plan contribution limits for the 2026 tax year. These adjustments reflect cost-of-living changes and help individuals and employers plan more effectively for retirement savings and benefits strategy.

If you contribute to a 401(k), 403(b), 457(b), traditional individual retirement account (IRA), Roth IRA, or manage a workplace retirement plan, now is a great time to review the thresholds and adjust your contributions accordingly.

The new limits may present opportunities to increase tax-deferred savings or fine-tune retirement strategies in alignment with your long-term goals.
