

CAPTRUST Covers Cybersecurity

Inside CAPTRUST's Always-On Technology Framework

Chief Technology Officer Jon Meyer pulls back the curtain on how CAPTRUST hard-wires resilience and security into every layer of its operations:

Business-Continuity by Design

Redundant networks, mirrored servers, and an off-site disaster-recovery facility let every associate pivot to remote work instantly. When an unexpected week-long power outage hit headquarters, client service continued uninterrupted—proof that the contingency playbook works in real life, not just on paper.

Cybersecurity Beyond Compliance

Automated tools scan every server, switch, and workstation daily, while an independent risk-assessment framework benchmarks more than 300 individual controls across six security domains. Year after year, CAPTRUST ranks among the highest-scoring firms in the capital-markets sector.

Relentless Reinvestment

Because the firm is privately held and growth-oriented, profits cycle back into next-generation tech—whether that’s deeper endpoint monitoring, advanced threat analytics, or user-friendly collaboration platforms that let advisors serve clients from anywhere.

The Result:

A world-class infrastructure that safeguards sensitive data, keeps critical applications online, and delivers seamless service no matter what bumps the outside world throws in the way.
