Upcoming Webinar! How HSAs Can Help Participants Tackle Retirement Healthcare Costs

One often overlooked way to save for retirement can be a health savings account (HSA).

According to a recent report, a couple with median prescription drug expenses needs $182,000 in savings to pay for healthcare expenses during retirement. Traditionally thought of only as a way to pay for annual healthcare expenses, one often overlooked way to save for retirement can be a health savings account (HSA).

In this webinar, CAPTRUST Defined Contribution Practice Leader Jennifer Doss will be joined by Wes Collins, senior manager of advice and wellness for CAPTRUST, and Lindsay Barnard, senior product manager at Alegeus, a provider of healthcare payment solutions that partners with the industry's leading health plans, third-party administrators, and financial services and benefit-solution providers. They will overview:

- how HSAs can be a key tool in helping participants save for retirement;
- trends in how employees and employers are utilizing the HSA benefit;
- the questions that participants are most often asking about HSAs; and
- the outlook for HSA growth.
