ERISA Overview

Fiduciary Responsibility

- ERISA imposes the “highest” fiduciary duty under law.
- This standard is supplemented by ERISA’s prohibited transaction rules.

Administrative Requirements

- ERISA has several rules regarding reporting and disclosure, plan documentation and governance, claims procedures, and governing custody and control of plan assets.

Liability and Enforcement

- ERISA has an extensive liability and enforcement regime, which includes personal liability of fiduciaries, as well as co-fiduciary liability.

ERISA Obligations Apply to Fiduciaries

A person is a fiduciary to a plan to the extent that person

- has any authority or control over the management of plan assets;
- has discretionary authority over plan administration; or
- renders investment advice to the plan for a fee.

Named Fiduciaries

- ERISA also requires that every plan have a named fiduciary, which means that certain fiduciaries must be identified (or identifiable pursuant to a procedure described) in the plan document.

Fiduciary status is the basis for fiduciary duties and liability.

Settlor vs. Fiduciary Activities

Importantly, ERISA's fiduciary standards do not apply to settlor activities.

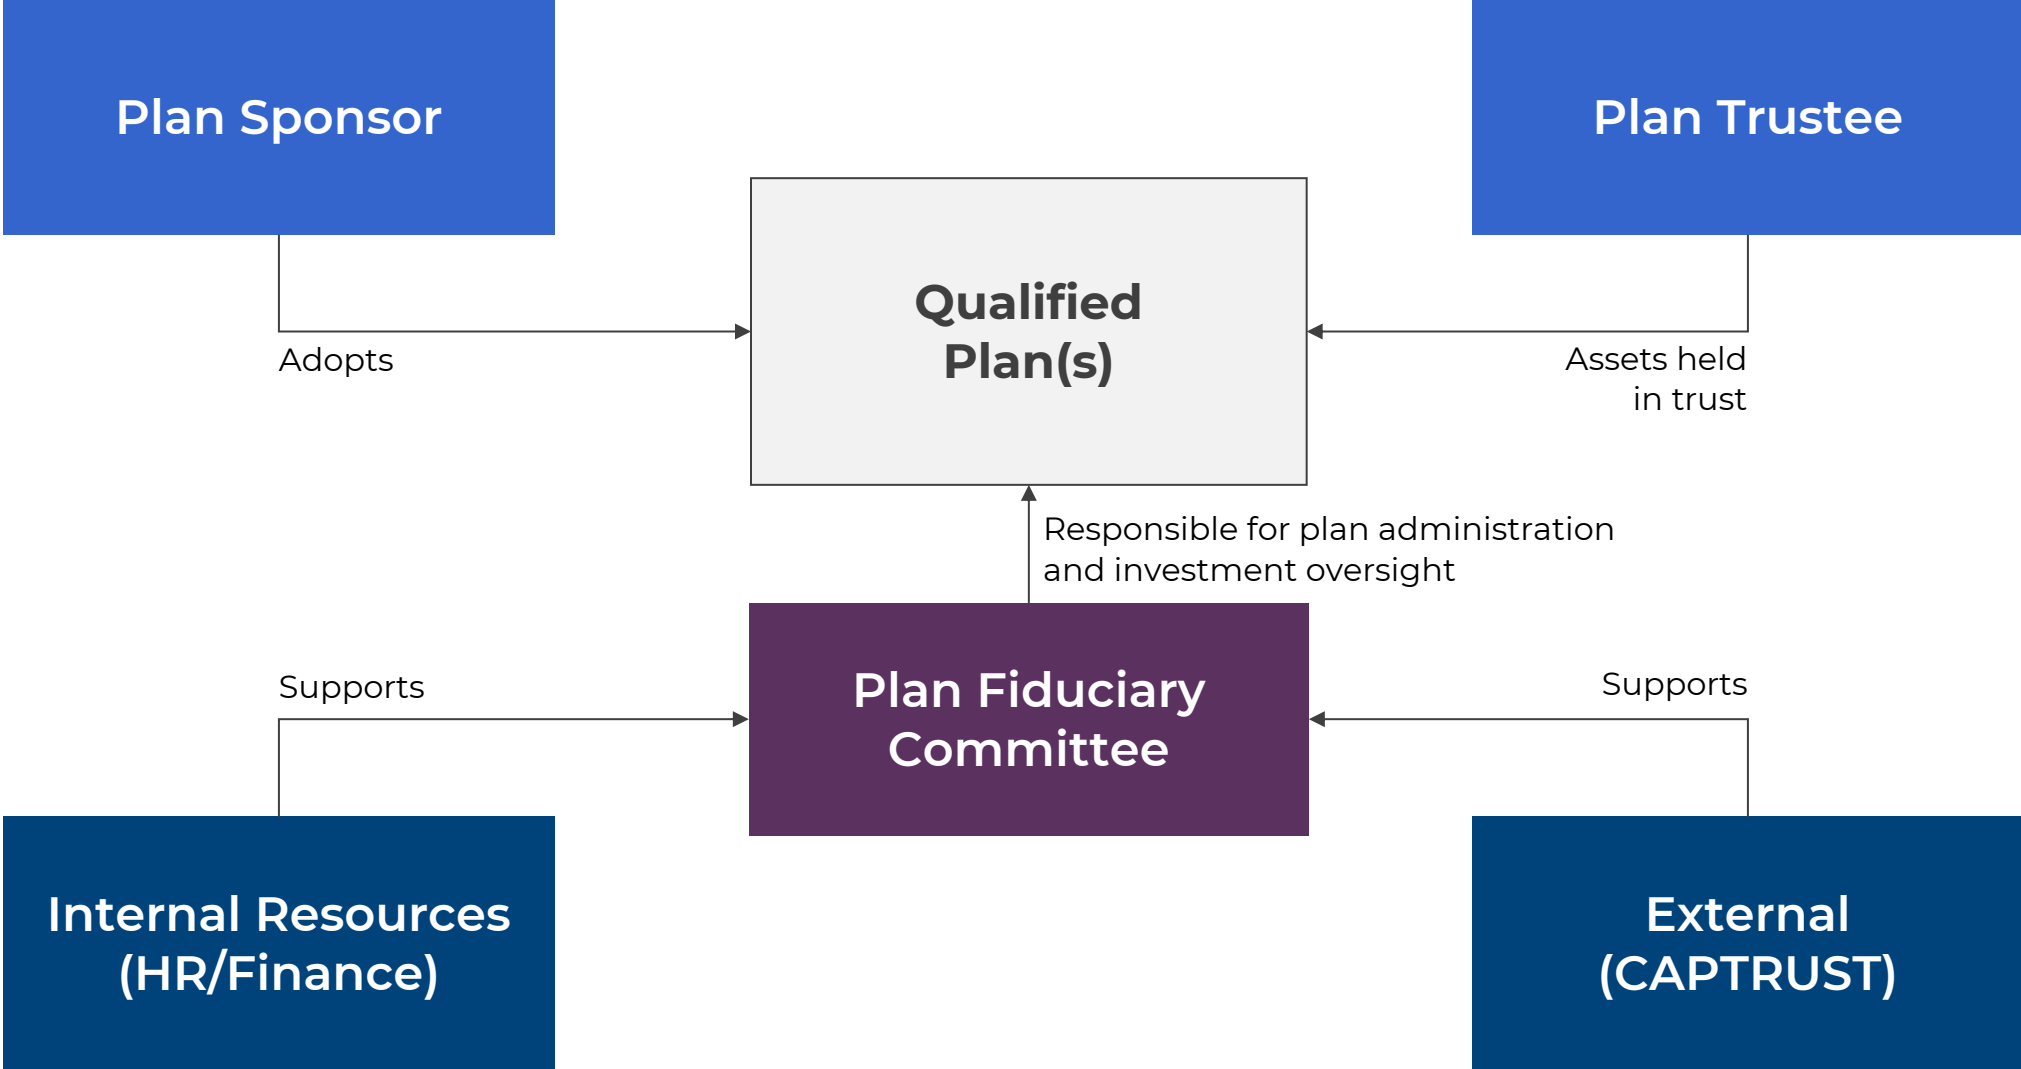

Settlor Decisions

- Establish plan
- Terminate plan
- Decision to amend plan
- Decisions regarding plan funding

Fiduciary Decisions

- Implementation of plan amendments
- Investment decisions
- Decisions regarding use of plan assets
- Claims and appeals
- Plan-related litigation and settlement decisions

Sample ERISA Fiduciary Structure

Fiduciary's Duty of Prudence

Process, process, process...

- A fiduciary need not guarantee success of its decisions but must ensure a prudent decision-making process.
- Good intentions are not enough—“A pure heart and an empty head are not an acceptable substitute for proper analysis,” Donovan v. Cunningham, 716 F.2d 1445 (5th Cir. 1987).
- It's necessary to document prudent decision-making.
- A prudent process is one that would be employed by a prudent expert and not a prudent layman.

Fiduciary's Duty of Loyalty

- Must act solely in the interest of participants and beneficiaries
- Committee members may wear two hats
 - Employer/Settlor Hat: Need not consider participants' interests (e.g., plan amendments)
 - Fiduciary Hat: Must make decisions solely in the interest of plan participants

Duty to Follow the Plan Document

- Plan fiduciaries should understand how their plan works, review it periodically with their third-party providers, and ensure that they remain current.
- Plan documents must be updated to reflect changes in the law.
- Plan documents must also be updated to reflect changes that occur within the company.
- Plan documents identify the named fiduciary and their roles and responsibilities.

Duty to Monitor and Supervise

- Evaluate managers at least quarterly.
 - How did the manager perform against the appropriate benchmark?
 - How did the manager perform relative to the appropriate peer group?
 - Were there any changes to the manager's style or organization?
- Evaluate services provided to determine if fiduciary investment advice is following the impartial conduct and best interest standards.
- Evaluate your service providers every few years.

Duty to Ensure Reasonable Plan Costs

- Analyze and document total plan costs.
- Compare plan costs to the market for similar plans every 2–3 years.
- Understand the use of revenue-sharing arrangements on your plan costs.
- A fiduciary is required to know how much they are paying; they are not required to have the least expensive plan.

Liability and Enforcement under ERISA

Potential Liabilities and Penalties

A fiduciary who breaches their responsibility can be found liable. Penalties may be imposed for up to six years after a fiduciary violation, or three years after the party bringing suit had knowledge of the breach.

- Restore lost profits plus 20% penalty
- Criminal penalties for willful violation
- Civil actions by participants
- Removal as fiduciary
- Loss of personal assets, home, and business
